Translation

What the German really <sup>says</sup> means ~~Now~~, is "Given to Mrs. Jacobs in thankfulness.

What he means is on the reverse side of this paper. He means he appreciates and is thankful that I have treated him so kindly — nicely. The gift represents a <sup>lover</sup>.

He wrote on the envelope to you — this is what he means →

Given to Mrs JACOBS in appreciation
