HIS Institution was founded in 1848, being incorporated under the name of the Wheeling Female Seminary, by an act of the Virginia Legislature. It was opened for the admission of pupils November 1st, 1850; Rev. D. W. TOLFORD being its first Principal. The desire to advance the interests and facilities of female education led to its organization as a College, in 1865, under a Charter conferring full Collegiate Powers and Privileges.

The object of this Institution is to furnish to young ladies all the advantages for thorough and complete education that are enjoyed by the other sex in our best appointed Colleges. From the first its religious basis has been Evangelical but not sectarian; the leading Protestant Churches of the City being always represented in the Faculty and Board of Direction. In its history of twenty years it has conferred its honors on more than a hundred graduates, and accomplished incalculable good in the liberal education of many other young women who have gone forth from its halls well qualified to fill and adorn the different spheres of life. Its past success is seen in the register of its Alumnæ and its present condition by reference to the summary of pupils.

Location, Buildings, &c.

THE College buildings are eligibly situated upon an elevated site, overlooking the City and commanding an extensive and beautiful view of the river, city and country. In the prospect from the College may be seen at one view the works of nature and art, commanding elements of beauty and grandeur, rarely equalled. The location is peculiarly favorable, being so high as to secure a fine and healthy atmosphere; so retired as to be free from the dust and noise of the City, and yet so near as to possess all the advantages of a City residence, being within easy access of the Street Cars, Post Office, R. R. Depots, Churches and other public buildings. This accessibility to the main thoroughfares and business possions of the City, has been materially increased by the completion of the Market Street Bridge.

THE COLLEGE EDIFICE is a commodious and substantial structure, built expressly for the purpose with all the modern improvements and completely furshished. It affords excellent accommodations for seventy-five boarding and compose than a hundred day students. It is lighted by gas, heated by furnaces, open grates, or stoves and well supplied with water, bathing rooms, and all other conveniences essential to the health and comfort of the young ladies.

The study halls and recitation rooms are large, well lighted, well ventilated, and furnished with one hundred and fifty desks and seats of the most approved and modern construction.

The arrangements for exercises are very complete. The grounds comprising a square on the corner of Eoff and Webster streets, are tastefully laid out and ornamented, and afford ample room for out door exercise.

During the past year the building has been thoroughly renovated, refurnished and put in complete order for the reception of pupils at the opening of the school year.

Departments.

HERE are six departments in the College, viz: Preparatory, Academic, Collegiate, Normal, Music, and Fine Art. The system of instruction in every department is thorough, comprehensive, and practical.

I. Preparatory Department.

This is designed for the youngest pupils, beginning at the age of seven. It occupies generally four years during which the first instruction is given in Reading, Writing, Orthography, Arithmetic, Geography and History. A proper amount of object teaching, singing and gymnastics will be introduced in this department and the pupil thoroughly trained in all the elements of an education preparatory to the Academic Department.

II. ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.

THE Academic Studies are in part a continuation of those of the preceding years, and in part a preparation for the College Course. Two years are required to pursue the studies in this department, and great pains will be taken that pupils have an adequate acquaintance with the Common English branches. before they are permitted to enter a higher course.

III. COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

This is the highest department of the College, and is designed to meet the wants of that increasingly large number of young ladies who aspire to liberal learning and desire their education to be complete. Three years are required to complete the regular or Scientific Course of this department.

Additional time will be required where students pursue the Classical Courses or study the Modern Languages.

IV. NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

This Department has been organized for the accommodation of Teachers who may wish to qualify themselves more fully for their profession as well as those pupils who wish to become Teachers.

Lectures will be given on the General Principles and Methods of Instruction, School Organization, Government, etc.

Besides the special instruction and lectures, each recitation in the other Departments will be so conducted as to furnish a model for the one preparing to teach. A certificate of Proficiency signed by the faculty will be given those, who, upon examination, are found well qualified in the studies of this Department.

V. DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL.

THE increasing demand for excellence in this elegant accomplishment gives additional importance to this Department. It is rapidly passing from the purely ornamental to the useful. Recognizing this fact, ample provision is made for thorough instruction and practice upon all ordinary instruments as well as for cultivation of the voice. We have aimed to secure the best facilities in this Department, and propose to furnish young ladies as good instruction in Piano, Organ and Vocal Music as can be obtained in any literary institution in the country.

Semi-Annual Concerts will be given, and several soirces held each year in the College Parlors, for Musical and Social purposes. A Vocal and Choral Class will be organized each session, to which all the pupils will have access with a small expense to each.

MUSIC ROOMS AND INSTRUMENTS.

Four of the most pleasant rooms of the College have been set apart for the use of this Department. They have been suitably furnished and are well supplied with musical instruments for practice. During the past year there has been added to their number a fine Organ and two Pianos for practice. A new seven octave Steinway Piano has also been placed in the College Parlor.

With our facilities we are able to offer superior advantages to pupils in this Department, and at moderate rates.

VI. ART DEPARTMENT.

THE instructions in this Department embrace all the varieties of Drawing and Painting in oil or water colors. The object aimed at is not merely to copy pictures, but to educate the mind in the essential principles of Art while training the eye and hand to its successful practice, and by this true method to develop real art talent. Students will usually be able to take one art study in addition to the regular course, and are strongly advised to do so when it is possible, as every one who desires to be accomplished should at least master the elements of the Fine Arts.

One of the most eligible apartments of the College has been neatly fitted up and supplied with every facility for the successful prosecution of Drawing and Painting in all their varieties. In it will be found patterns and models not only for use, but also to form correct taste and guide the student in applying the principles of the art.

This Department is under charge of an accomplished Lady Artist, who will devote special attention to instruction in the various styles of Painting, Crayoning and Drawing.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

WE are prepared to teach the Modern Languages both in reading and conversation very thoroughly.

The German is the language of a numerous people, standing in the front rank in science and literature, and with whom our relations are becoming more and more intimate. In recognition of the necessities hence arising, ample provision is made for instruction in this tongue by a German scholar of long and successful experience in teaching.

French is fully and carefully taught by an experienced teacher. The general use of this beautiful language in the Diplomatic and Polite Circles of the world renders it a desirable acquisition in the education of every young Lady.

ANCIENT LANGUAGES.

While the study of the Classics is not required in the Regular Course, a Classical Course in which a moderate amount of Latin and Greek is required, has been introduced in the Collegiate Department. It is evident to those engaged in the work of education that the time has come when young women should have equal opportunities with young men in these grand departments of liberal culture. Apart from the influence of classics on mental discipline, literature, and taste, their relation to the physical sciences alone is so important, that no proper understanding of these branches can be attained without some acquaintance with the languages in which all scientific nomenclature is expressed. For this and other reasons it has been deemed advisable to restore the classics to their proper place in the carriculum of study in the Wheeling Female College.

Courses of Study.

T will be seen that we have included in the Courses of Study in the several Departments of the College all those studies, useful and ornamental, which are essential to a finished education. In arranging the curriculum of study great pains have been taken to meet the diversified wants of students without associations the regularity and system so essential to all. Like care has been exercised in the selection of the latest and most approved text books. A wide scope, however, is given for consulting individual tastes and aptitudes, and the only restrictions placed upon these are such as may be required in order that the instruction be real and thorough. Thoroughness being indispensable in whatever is undertaken, three full studies at any one time together with one branch of art will be regarded as the complement, and that number of studies satisfactorily accomplished each term will entitle the student to the Collegiate diploma at the end of the course.

SELECT COURSE.

Those not wishing to pursue either of the prescribed courses may make a selection of studies, entering the classes for which they are prepared. For the accommodation of such pupils, the Common English and many other branches are pursued each term.

POST GRADUATE COURSE.

A Post Graduate Course has been added for the purpose of accommodating such young ladies as, having graduated from this or other institutions, desire to pursue studies previously omitted, or to complete a particular line of study.

ADMISSION.

The regular time for admission to the College is at term commencement, (see calendar,) and it is very desirable that students should be present and enter the regular classes at the opening of each term. Students will be admitted, however at any time and charged only from date of entrance, but no student will be received for less than the term or remainder of the term in which she enters, except by special arrangement made at the time of entry. Those who have been in good standing in other schools, and who will cordially accede to the regulations instituted for the government of the College, will be received.

Young Ladies who desire to enter for Music, French, Painting or other special studies will be received. Each student on entering will furnish her name and residence with that of her Parent or Guardian, to be recorded in the College Register. No student will leave College after registration without a proper dismissal from the President and payment of all bills. No deduction will be made for any cause except sickness, and in no case for a less time than two weeks.

CLASSIFICATION.

REAL attainments constitute the basis of classification. Students upon entersing will be assigned to such classes as their actual attainments indicate. Pupils 2 Latoo young or not sufficiently advanced to enter upon the regular Collegiate 2.2

studies will be classified as their attainments and progress warrant. Advancement to higher classes will depend upon scholarship and not upon the time the student may have been connected with the institution. No student will be permitted to take up a study for which she is not prepared, nor pass from a lower to a higher department without satisfactory examination.

DIPLOMAS, &c.

At the close of the Academic year the Commencement Exercises of the Senior Class take place, and those who have completed the English or Scientific Course receive the degree of M. E. L.; and those who have completed the Classical Course that of A. B. A degree corresponding to that of A. M. may also be conferred on all Classical Graduates who complete the Post Graduate Course and who continue for three years in literary pursuits.

CERTIFICATES.—Pupils who complete the studies of the Normal Department will be entitled to a Certificate of graduation in that department. Those who pursue only a partial course of study in either of the departments of the College, receive, if desired, special certificates of qualifications.

Auxiliaries.

LECTURES.

N addition to the Lectures given informally on subjects connected with the health, manners and appropriate duties of young ladies, a full Course of Lectures, with experiments and illustrations, will be given in Physiology, Chemistry, Natural Philosophy and Astronomy. Besides these lectures, others will be given by eminent men on Literature, Science, History, Travels, Art, &c. To these lectures the friends and patrons of the College are always cordially invited. In addition to the College Lecture Course, Lectures are delivered each season in the city under the auspices of different Lecture Associations.

APPARATUS.

THE College is supplied with an extensive Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, a choice Cabinet of Minerals; together with Globes, Maps, Charts and appropriate drawings and illustrations in Natural History and Astronomy.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

A Library and Reading Room has been opened for the benefit of the students. A fair nucleus has been collected for a Public Library and many valuable Religious, Literary and Scientific Periodicals are on the table of the Reading Room and are accessible to all. Irregular and trashy reading being detrimental to Solid improvement is prohibited.

Donations to the Library and Cabinet will be gratefully received.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

A Society of the Students has been organized for literary purposes and the mutual improvement of its members.

Essays, recitations, readings, music and other literary and æsthetic exercises occupy its regular weekly meetings. Occasional public literary entertainments will be given by the Society.

EXAMINATIONS.

Public Examinations of all the classes will be held at the close of each Session. The examinations will be conducted in writing, whenever that method is applicable with advantage; in other cases they will be oral. Care will be taken on these occasions to obtain an accurate representation of the general standing of each student. All the recitations and exercises of the institution are open at all times to patrons and friends.

RECORDS OF PROFICIENCY.

A DAILY account will be kept of the punctuality of each pupil and the character of each recitation will also be noted in a book kept for that purpose. The standing of the students is determined by a system of marks ranging from ten for a perfect exercise to zero for a total failure. These records will be preserved in the College Register, and an abstract furnished each term to the parent or guardian.

PRIZES.

DURING the coming year the following award of prizes will be made:

PRIZE IN ENGLISH COMPOSITION.

A BEAUTIFUL Silver Cup to that member of the Collegiate Department who shall write the best Essay. Essay contest at the close of the First Term.

PRIZE IN ELOCUTION.

A FINE Volume of Poetry to that pupil who shall excel in Reading. Reading contest at the close of Third Term.

AWARDS.

THE following awards were made the last year, viz:

READING PRIZE to Miss Siddie Heiskell. Special merit to Miss Anuie Logan and Miss Laura Hall.

Committee of Award.—Rev. H. C. Westwood, D. D., Rev. G. W. Chalfant, R. H. Cochran, Esq., Prof. Z. H. Bundy and Rev. Chas. McClellan.

Drawing Prize to Miss Lida Warren. Special merit to Miss Jennie Busby and Miss Mollie Chapline.

Committee of Award.—Miss Margaretta Doddridge, Miss Dora Hornbrook, Miss M. M. Hallowell, Miss Theressa Doddridge and Miss Julia Humphreville.

ALUMNÆ ASSOCIATION.

HE graduates of the Wheeling Female College now number more than a hundred. It is earnestly desired that a meeting be called at an early day for the organization of an Alumnæ Association, and to arrange for an Anniversary at the next Commencement.

Physical Education and Health.

HE Physical Education of the students is considered of paramount importance and is consulted in all the arrangements of the Institution. We fully appreciate the solicitude with which parents follow their daughters as they leave their watchful care, but as our children must sooner or later leave home to do for themselves, it is better for them in first leaving home to go where there will be discipline, restraint, kindness and care. Of the interests entrusted to us, we deem health of the first importance. Great pains will be taken in regard to the sanitary regulations of the College as respects hours for rising and retiring, the warming and ventilation of rooms, choice and preparation of food, rules of personal regimen, etc.

Among the means employed for the conservation of health may be named: Daily instruction and practice in free and light gymnastics together with various other appropriate exercises under the direction of a judicious teacher, a large room being devoted to Calisthenic exercises. Grounds large enough to admit of ample out door exercise. Ample facilities for bathing. The whole building kept well warmed and ventilated, etc.

For our Day Pupils, the walk to and from the College is found to be an excellent conserver of the health, happily furnishing that out door exercise so necessary while engaged in study.

'Moral and Religious Education.

HE Religious character of the College has ever been in conformity with the liberal and christian aim of its founders. It is a thoroughly Christian Institution in which the word of God is systematically taught and the Christian religion made the basis of character and education. But it is distinctly unsectarian, and the religious instruction is based on the principles of christianity as held by all evangelical denominations.

The usual religious exercises are held morning and evening. Pupils attend such church on Sabbath as parents designate. There will be religious service in the College Chapel each Sabbath afternoon. At all times attention will be given to cultivating in the minds of the students, a love of truth and a regard for all the precepts of morality, as well as courteous demeanor in all their intercourse.

The Home.

THE Boarding Department and household arrangements are under the personal care and control of the President and his wife, and are such as to secure the benefits of refined Christian society, and the comforts and safe-guards of a pleasant home. The appointments of this department have been greatly enlarged and improved, and special provision made for the comfort of our boarding pupils who are all strictly regarded as members of our own household. Their manners, habits and associations are under the constant watch-care of the President and resident Teachers. Our aim, toward which our highest efforts are constantly bent, is to surround this department with all the kindly, gentle influences of the best home life; to impress upon the minds of those committed to our training, principles of industry, thoroughness, filial affection and obedience, and to exalt and refine social character.

The portion of the building occupied by the boarders is pleasant and homelike. The sleeping apartments are all large, pleasant rooms, neatly papered and carpeted, suitably furnished and well ventilated, lighted and heated. They are so arranged that only two occupy the same apartments. Quiet and retirement are thus secured, while pleasant social intercourse in the family circle and in the society of their companions, is within the reach of all.

The table will be supplied with good and wholesome food, and plenty of it. We pledge our word on this point. The good name that the College now has in this regard, we think is deserved, and it will be our earnest endeavor to pay the fullest attention to this subject.

The rooms are fully furnished, but boarders must bring their own towels, napkins, and toilet articles. Every article belonging to a pupil should be distinctly marked.

DAY PUPILS.

UR arrangements for day scholars are such as to accommodate upward of one hundred. This department has always been well sustained, the average attendance of day pupils being nearly equal to the capacity of the Institution, and this is one of its best recommendations that it stands high and is well sustained at home. In increasing the advantages of the boarding department, the interests of our Day Pupils have not been neglected. They are received in the same classes, are under the same government and instruction, and in all respects enjoy the same privileges as those who reside in the College Family. Our central location in the City, accessibility to its suburbs and distant portions by means of the Street Cars, and at the same time our retired and beautiful situation, together with the character of the school, unite to recommend the College to those parents living in the City or vicinage, who desire that their daughters, without leaving home may enjoy all the advantages of a first-class Seminary.

Government.

HE Government of the Institution is strictly of a mild and parental character. At the same time wholesome discipline is always maintained and a prompt and cheerful obedience required. So far as is consistent with their best interests, the pupils are expected to govern themselves as well as be governed, thus developing that self reliance and integrity of character which should go hand in hand with intellectual culture.

No more is required and no less expected of our pupils than the ordinary rules of social propriety and Christian courtesy prescribe.

General Remarks and Regulations.

THE COLLEGIATE YEAR.—The Collegiate year commences in September and continues ten months, closing the last of June. It is divided into two sessions of five months each, and each session into two Terms or Quarters.

The next Year opens September 5th, 1871.

Hours of Study.—The daily sessions are from 8:45 A. M., to 2:30 P. M., with a recess of one hour from 12 M. to 1 P. M.

Day Pupils are required to be prompt in their attendance upon Chapel exercises at 8:45 and will remain within the enclosure of the College grounds until they are dismissed or excused.

Excuses.—Absence or tardiness will be excused, or leave of absence from Study Hall, recitation or other duty, granted only by the President, and upon the written request of parent or guardian. No student will leave a class without the consent of the teacher approved by the President, and any student who is absent from recitation without excuse will be reported immediately to the President.

VISITORS.—Friends in the city wishing to see the President or any of the Faculty, will please call before 8:30 A. M., or after 3 P. M. Those wishing to see the young ladies will please call Friday afternoon after 3 o'clock, or on Saturday. Friends at a distance will call as may be most convenient to themselves.

Books.—Text books used in the school, stationery, music and painting materials will be furnished in the College at the regular city prices.

CATALOGUES or further information may be had by addressing the President.

DESCRIPTION

OF THE

Wheeling Female College.

IGH up above the city, away from the rattle, and noise, and dust, and smoke of our busy city, and yet having the waves of industry and commerce break at the very foot of the hill whereon it sits, like the old romantic castles of the feudal barons on the Rhine, is located one of the most complete and successful institutions of learning in the country, the Wheeling Female College. From the windows of the College building on the South the eye takes in one of the most lovely scenes imaginable. For five miles the view of the Ohio river skirted by a grand amphitheatre of hills, is uninterrupted. Bellaire, the railroad bridge, the ascending and descending steamers, the rattling, bustling trains of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh and Baltimore & Ohio Railroads on either side of the river, the hillsides at this season of the year having the yellow of the grain stubble and the green of the vine-yards, corn fields and grand old forests in striking contrast, all go to make up a picture of beauty rarely equalled, and this while right at our feet is the roar of the nail works, the smoke of the glass factories and the clinking and rattling of the artisan's hammer, and the everchanging panorama of busy life. From the windows on the eastern side, we see the windings of Wheeling creek, and the many factories that skirt its banks. On the north the many beautiful residences Wheeling boasts, its handsome churches, the market places, the custom house, the steamboat landing, the railroad depots, the suspension bridge, and all apparently miles away, as far as the noise and business of life is concerned, and yet actually within a stone's throw of the College. No other educational institution in this country is so advantageously situated, thus combining, the stillness, healthfulness and retiracy of the country, and the advantages, amusements and pleasures of the city.

Wheeling Female College was chartered in 1848, and went into operation in the winter of 1850, and has always been regarded with pride by our citizens. It will open on the fifth day of September next, under the management of Rev. William H. Morton, A.M., President and Professor of Mental and Moral Science, and one of the most successful and accomplished educators in the West. Under his charge the Wheeling Female College will improve on its present reputation as one of the best institutions of learning in the country. As a boarding school the arrangements for the comfort and discipline of pupils are well devised, having in view their moral, intellectual and physical culture, giving parents the assurance that their daughters will here be the objects of the common and solicitude as when under the parental eye.

The College building is four stories high, and consists of a main building and two wings. The main building is 92 feet in length and 41 feet in width. The south wing is 43 feet by 41, and the north 23 by 23. It fronts on Eoff street, and now that the Market street bridge is completed is but two or three squares from the Post Office. There are 65 rooms in the building, among them five recitation rooms, a chapel and study hall forty feet square, mathematical and recitation rooms, four music rooms, preparatory school room, a gymnasium 40 feet square, a Science Hall, where is kept the best chemical and philosophical apparatus in West Virginia, a choice cabinet of geological specimens and minerals, globes, maps, charts and all else necessary for the study of natural philosophy; astronomy and kindred sciences. It is not often that so complete and extensive apparatus is found in educational institutions for young ladies. The parlors are spacious and richly furnished. The dining-room is large, airy and convenient. Water and gas throughout the building. The building is heated by hot air furnaces, except the dormitories, there being 35 in number, which are heated by open fire places as being most conductive to health. So complete is the College in all its parts and appointments that one wonders how all the many little conveniences so often overlooked in similar institutions, came to be thought of. The dormitories are furnished in first-class style, with bureau, ward-robe, wash-stand, carpet and such like furniture in each.

There are six pianos and one organ for the use of pupils in the department of music, five Knabe and one Steinway. This latter instrument is in the parlor, and is said to be one of the most powerful and finest-toned instruments ever sent from that factory.

The course of study comprises all that is useful and ornamental necessary to a finished female education. The Faculty and instructors are well known in this community and throughout this and the adjoining States, as being of great repute in their several departments.

The religious character of the College has ever been in conformity with the liberal and christian aim of its founders. It is a thoroughly christian institution, in which the word of God is systematically taught and the Christian Religion is made the basis of character and education. But it is distinctly unsectarian, and the religious instruction is based on the principles of christianity as held by all evangelical denominations.

We have thus briefly and partially given some of the leading characteristics of the Wheeling Female College, and of its advantages as an educational institution for young ladies, but our brief limits do not permit us to say one-half of all we might in urging its claims upon parents. The high character of Rev. Mr. Morton, the President, is sufficient guarantee of the truth of our representations, and the catalogue of the College for the academic year of 1869-70 will give such other particulars as parents may need. These may be had by addressing Mr. Morton, in this city.—Wheeling Register.
